SEASHORE FLORAL PARADE.

Attraction Booked for Atlantic City on August 8.

(Special to The Washington Times.)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 2.—This seaside resort is to have, on August 8, a novelty as an attraction which promises to eclipse all of the season's previous amusements. It is the floral parade, which will take place on the boardwalk.

The parade will be patterned after the baby parade held annually at Asbury Park, and it is expected to attract a great crowd of excursionists.

Atlantic City is famous for its boardwalk and every day hundreds of easy rolling chairs can be seen on the long walk, with their fair occupants reclining easily therein. It is the purpose of the committee having the affair in charge to secure as many good-looking women to appear in the parade as possible, and already a number of prominent actresses and society women have asked for places in the parade.

The chairs will be decorated with beautiful cut flowers, and prizes will be given for the most ornate, the most tasteful, the most elaborate, and the most judiciously decorated chairs in line. It is expected that there will be 100 or more chairs in line.

Many of the prominent theatrical attractions of the past and coming seasons have engaged chairs, and there will be great rivalry between them to secure the first prize. "Florodora" will be playing at one of the piers on the day of the parade, and the company will be represented by one of the most gorgeously decorated chairs in line.

The committee in charge hope to make the parade one of the season's greatest attractions, and it is the purpose to make it an annual affair in the future just as the baby parade is at Asbury Park.

SPRING LAKE, N. J.

Visitors Regaling Themselves in a Round of Pleasure.

(Special to The Washington Times.)

SPRING LAKE, N. J., July 2.—This aristocratic cottage colony is regaling itself with a jolly round of outdoor pleasures that include golf, ping-pong, and tennis. Among the golfers the tournament for the President's Cup is now absorbing interest.

A morning game was a pleasant innovation this week. It was held at the Casino Tuesday morning, and was attended by the fashion of the resort.

Among those noticed on the floor were Miss Margaret Wedderburn, Miss Lillian Wedderburn, Miss Carter, Miss Allen, Miss Helme, Miss Helen Maloney, Miss Mills, and Mrs. Condit, of Washington. The Washington colony at the Wilburton-by-the-Sea includes the Hon. George B. Whitcomb.

The tournament, over at Sea Girt, is entertaining Miss Letitia T. Taylor, a grandniece of President Zachary Taylor.

GUESTS AT SEABRIGHT.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 2.—Former Senator and Mrs. J. M. Thurston, of Nebraska, arrived from Washington on Monday. They are guests of the Octagon.

Prominent among the arrivals at the Octagon this week were Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hunter, of Washington, are spending the season at the Octagon.

CAPON SPRINGS, W. VA.

Most Delightful Season in Years at Popular Resort.

(Special to The Washington Times.)

CAPON SPRINGS, W. VA., July 2.—The present season is one of the gayest and most successful ever enjoyed by this famous old resort in all of its more than a century of prosperous existence.

Entertainments of every variety are now following each other in such rapid succession it is impossible to take note of them all. Among the more important of recent events was a very handsome card party given on Monday morning by Mr. John E. Bell, of Cincinnati, Ohio. The prizes were won by Mr. Emmett Tompkins, wife of Representative Tompkins, of Ohio; Miss Sturgeon, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Bevan Miller and Miss Sarah Harrison, of Baltimore; Rev. Dr. Henry, of Morristown, N. J.; Mr. Worthington Robinson, of Louisville; and Mr. Joseph K. Garr, of New Orleans.

On Tuesday evening a beautifully arranged card party was given on the lawn by Mrs. F. A. Henry, formerly of Washington, but now of Morristown, N. J. Seven-handed euchre was played, and the games and a number of prizes distributed. The winners of the latter were Mrs. Emmett Tompkins, of Ohio; Mrs. Bevan Miller, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Sturgeon, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Harrison, of Baltimore; and Mr. Worthington Robinson, of Louisville, and Miss Alice Hammond, of Baltimore.

On Wednesday evening an equally delightful progressive euchre, followed by a supper, was given by Mrs. James Mackall, of Washington. The prizes, which were unusually handsome, were won by Mrs. Ellen Joyce, Philadelphia; Mrs. William Groesbeck, Washington; Mrs. Edward Warren Hall, Baltimore; and Mrs. Goshing, Cincinnati.

A charming event of Tuesday evening was a chair ride for forty-five young people, given by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Jones, of Washington in honor of their daughter, Miss Lucile Jones. At Capon Lake Inn, six miles from the springs, an old-time Virginia supper was served, the tables being placed out of doors in the moonlight, to the brilliancy of which was added the glow of hundreds of Chinese lanterns. The evening concluded with dancing in the great dining room of the inn. On Monday evening a pretty children's supper was also given by Mr. and Mrs. Jones, for their younger daughters, Misses Edna and Inez Jones.

On Thursday morning a "picnic euchre," arranged by Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wright, of Cincinnati, took place in the ball room. Everybody took a prize and received one in exchange, so the affair was a great success.

On Thursday evening Mr. J. G. Henderson, the well-known Philadelphia financier, gave a very handsome supper to a limited number of guests. Among those present were Mrs. Emmett Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Nelson, of Capon; Mr. John Chew, Mr. D. Barton Mackall, Washington; Miss Little and Miss Sturgeon, of Philadelphia; Miss Sarah Harrison Powell, Baltimore; Mrs. de Montuzin and Mr. Joseph Garr, of New Orleans, and a few others.

One of the most charming guests at Capon this season is Miss Caperton, of Georgetown, D. C. Miss Caperton is especially noted for her dainty, refined appearance, while her sweetness of manner causes her to be equally popular with young and old.

A recent attractive addition to the list of belles is Miss Jennie Grady, of Washington, daughter of Mr. C. Powell Grady, Assistant Librarian at the Congressional Library. Miss Grady is chaperoned by her aunt, Miss Armistead, of Baltimore.

Mrs. Walter D. Trybille, of Washington, who has been such a prominent and welcome guest at Capon for several seasons past, has returned for the present summer, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Walter Robertson, of Chicago, one of the handsomest and most attractive members of the younger married set.

ORKNEY SPRINGS.

Many Washingtonians Enjoying Popular Mountain Resort.

(Special to The Washington Times.)

ORKNEY SPRINGS, July 2.—Among the late arrivals at Orkney are Mr. T. Edward Davis, Miss Edith Davidge, and Miss E. Earnest, of Washington.

One of the enjoyable events of this week was a "progressive euchre" held in the hotel parlors. The spacious room was tastefully adorned with mountain ferns and daisies, while the air was redolent with the perfume of American Beauties, which were the favors of the evening.

OCEAN CITY.

Popular Resort Haven of Rest for District Citizens.

(Special to The Washington Times.)

OCEAN CITY, Md., July 2.—Ocean City during the past week has been quietly maintaining her wonted line of conduct, with gentle, swishing surf, bright sunlight, and stiff breezes off the sea.

This seems to be a season for sportsmen. The Messrs. Waggoner, of Washington, have aroused much enthusiasm for gunning among the men, and considerable sport has rewarded their prowess. Fishing, especially for kingfish, is reported unusually good this year, fine catches having been made by Dr. Baggett and Judge Dennis.

Golfing, tennis, and bowling matches include the ladies of an athletic turn of mind, and by no means least in this category of facts should be noted the reign of the ping-pong craze, to which in the past we have been surprisingly impervious. Since fine new tables have been added to the amusement capacity of the Atlantic Casino, the Atlantic Hotel, and the Mount Pleasant summer parlour, many contests have been played with zest.

All these sports, however, have in no way dampened the enthusiasm for more formal affairs, and the nightly dances at both the Atlantic and "Palm" have aroused unwearied response from the younger set.

The matinee euchre held in "the Pagoda" Tuesday afternoon exceeded all expectations.

The death of the youngest son of Mr. Melville Church, of Washington, cast a gloom over beach life last week.

Mrs. William Dyer, of Washington, is visiting in Sutton Lodge, the cottage engaged by Mrs. Charles Lusk, of Washington.

Washington arrivals of the week at the various hotels are as follows:

The Waverly—Miss Francis Bartholow, Miss Alice Bartholow.

The Mount Pleasant—Miss Hattie B. Stuart, Miss Annie M. Stuart, Mrs. A. Lee Lowe, Miss Lucy McKim, Miss E. J. Lackey, Mr. C. C. Hellev, Mr. A. S. Hoy, M. D., Mrs. M. V. Helton, Mr. Roy A. Helton, Mr. Ed. Edwards, Mr. S. Williams, William W. Mills, Mr. A. M. S. Jones, John B. Slem, Jr., J. C. Anderson, W. D. Lambour, Blanche F. Reid, Opal L. Smith, Gertrude A. Higham, Nellie L. Donn, Mrs. F. H. Helton, Miss Helton, Mrs. E. H. Martin and son, Mr. and Mrs. R. Emmett Lewis, John H. Harrison, Jr.

The Fenwick—Mrs. G. H. Walker, The Pilmington—Mrs. Oswald Kemp, Mr. C. C. Helton, Miss Billing, Miss Fasset, Dr. and Mrs. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. William F. Heintz, Miss L. E. Helton, Mrs. E. H. Martin, Master Martin.

The Atlantic—T. V. Hammond, L. H. Coswell, Mr. and Mrs. David Moore, three children and maid, James F. Macklin, F. P. Waggoner, Mrs. E. L. Johnson, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs. A. B. Johnson, Miss Julia Johnson, Miss Abbe Johnson, William G. Johnson.

WASHINGTON GROVE.

Large Crowds Visit Popular Resort During the Week.

(Special to The Washington Times.)

WASHINGTON GROVE, Md., July 2.—With the best crowd of people that has ever been at the Grove and plenty of entertainment and social events, everyone receives complete satisfaction and things run along smoothly.

The first evening of the week's program made a good mark for the others. The concert consisted of both vocal and instrumental display of talent and also selected readings. The Solitaires' Chorus from "Faust," was rendered by a group of young ones. The other numbers, following several selections by the children, were as follows: Cornet solo, Mr. Gottwall; tenor solo, Mr. Butterworth; recitation, Mrs. Hayman; soprano solo, Mrs. Otis Sweet; basso solo, Mr. Schaefer; renderings by the male quartet composed of Messrs. Beck, Butterworth, Middleton and Bovee. The evening's program was arranged by Mr. John Bovee.

Mrs. Amy May Gray, of Douglas Memorial M. E. Church, gave the first of a series of primary Sabbath school normal lessons, her subject being, "Teaching and Teachers."

After another of Rev. Page Milburn's Normal Lessons Wednesday evening, "The Teacher: What He Ought to Have," the hour for prayer meeting was at hand. In the absence of Rev. G. W.

Marwell, who was to preach, Mr. Percy Foster conducted the services. A solo was sung by the leader.

BRIGHTWOOD AND VICINITY.

The long anticipated merger of the Brightwood Railroad with the Washington Railway and Electric Company has at last been effected and the bugaboo of double fare which has long confronted the patrons of the Brightwood Avenue line has finally been eliminated. The service on this road has been greatly improved of late, but there is yet to be desired an increase in rolling stock sufficient to meet the augmented demand of summer patronage.

Mr. John Cook, one of the best-known citizens of this locality, has demonstrated his public spirit by the erection, at his own expense, of a station and waiting room at the junction of Brightwood Avenue and the Piney Branch Road. It is suggested that other owners of property along the car line might display like public spirit by emulating his example.

Mr. Louis Multer, a visitor at the Grove, has gone to Gettysburg.

Mrs. Susan Stuart and family are at the Grove.

Mrs. Hyde is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Padgett.

Mrs. A. G. Apple and family are spending a month at Trinity cottage, on Sixth Avenue.

Among the recent visitors to the Grove are: Mr. Harry Welch and family, Mr. William K. Cohen, Mr. John Hollinsworth, Miss Lottie McGee, Mr. Faulkner.

The Sunday school spent a pleasant evening on Wednesday, when the different classes sold fancy articles and several kinds of refreshments. After an exhibition drill by the Grove Cadets, a peanut hunt was enjoyed. Mr. W. H. Houghton entertained the school on his spacious lawn.

Mr. Percy S. Foster, one of Washington's musicians, is here to assist the Chautauqua for the rest of the season.

Mr. Henry Craig and Mr. B. S. Platt with their families have taken cottages.

Mr. Francis C. Woodman has returned from Leesburg, Va., where he was in camp with the District National Guard.

Mrs. Wilson, after a visit to her father, Mr. Carlton Hughes, has returned to Washington.

Mrs. Gordon is entertaining her daughter, Mrs. A. W. Slatrow, with her son, Gordon.

Mr. Henry Wilson is visiting the Grove.

Next Tuesday is scheduled as Christian Endeavor Day.

Mr. W. H. H. Smith will give his pulpit over to Rev. Page Milburn tomorrow morning, but will talk at night on "A Square Deal."

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK.

Among the Washingtonians now at Mountain Lake Park are the following:

Loch Lynn Hotel—A. A. Protzman, George P. Tibbitts, S. H. Bowman, W. J. Lambert, Philip McIlhenny, F. L. Hansen.

Mountain Lake Hotel—M. McLeann, C. A. Rhodes and wife, Vivian Everett, Mrs. Alex. Ashley, J. R. Ash and wife, Dr. J. J. Clark and wife, S. H. Bowman, Miss Wingate, S. D. Carmen.

Oakland Hotel—Joseph Nimmo, Jr., August Barr and wife, Mrs. Harry Dobson, S. Silverberg and wife, Alexander McKnight, F. B. Williams.

Overlook Inn—Mrs. Arthur Ramsey, J. Frank Hiss, Willard Fracker, A. W. Down and wife, J. A. Schaffer.

Chautauqua Hotel—Charles Henley, H. C. Ash and wife, Warren Choate, Jr., Kate Flemming, Mrs. A. O. Latham, W. H. Harrison, Jr.

The serenity of Brightwood was greatly disturbed on Monday morning last by a fire in the heart of the village. Considerable damage was done to the store and stock of Charles P. Posey, and greater loss was prevented only by the active efforts of the local chemical engine company, which was on the scene immediately after the flames were discovered. The excitement of the occasion was heightened by the supposed incendiary origin of the fire and the subsequent arrest of the proprietor of the place on the charge of arson.

GOSSIP AND CHAT HEARD IN WASHINGTON HOTEL LOBBIES

A Buckeye Democrat.

Col. Ike Hill, the veteran Ohio Democrat, was in the lobby of the Ebbitt last evening discussing national politics with a party of friends. Colonel Hill is perhaps without exception one of the best-known Democrats in the Buckeye State. He counts among his personal friends Democrats and Republicans of national prominence from one end of the country to the other.

"It is a little bit early to size up the situation," said Colonel Hill, "but from my point of view I can't see how the Democrats can lose this fall. President Roosevelt has spoken against the trusts, the Democrats in the House acted. Now, if the President's party in Congress was with him, why, it would have followed his recommendation and passed some anti-trust measure last session. But they wouldn't do it. Now, the Democrats in the House amended the Cuban reciprocity bill by repealing the differential duty which gives protection to the sugar trust. And what did the Republicans in the Senate do? Why, they globeholed the bill in face of a special message from the President.

"The record will show who is again the trusts for fair and who is again for bluff. The people this fall will elect a Democratic House of Representatives, and the Democrats will pass an anti-trust measure and put it up to a Republican Senate. Then we'll see what's what."

Colonel Hill says the Democrats will hold their own in Ohio, with a good fighting chance to gain several members.

Outlook in Virginia.

Representative Hay of Virginia was at the Riggs House yesterday. Some private business matters brought him to the city. Mr. Hay was not disposed to discuss the political situation beyond saying that the outlook was favorable to Democratic success. Mr. Hay is one of the strong men on the Democratic side of the House.

Looking After Departments.

Senator Tallaferra of Florida dropped into the Raleigh for a few minutes yesterday. The Senator was looking well and seemed in the best of health and spirits. He is here to look after some matters before the departments.

F. Roderick, Carrie Roderick, Mrs. R. L. Day.
